Also cabbage, onions, carrots, tomatoes, and tobacco, of this season's growth. Red flax wheat, white milling oats, two bushels white oats, and peas, threshed, of last season's crop. Mrs. Jas. A sample of gold dust is included in the Fort Saskatchewan exhibit.
As announced in last issue Rev. Father Fouquet, O. M. I., formerly pastor of the Roman Catholic church at Edmonton, arrived on Monday's train and was met at the railway station by the Edmonton brass band and a number of people from this side. The Rev. Father was driven to the St. Joseph's parsonage where a large number of his former parishioners awaited him. Mr. J. G. Fairbanks, as president of the Edmonton brass band, read an address of welcome; and an address of the St. Jean Baptist Society was read by its president, S. Larue. The Rev. father spoke feelingly in reply, and said he had not expected such a welcome as greeted him on his arrival for a few days stay. The band's playing was fine and received merited applause.

She leaves for Regina on to-morrow's train accompanied by her son, Mr. Seton Anderson, who has been residing at Menawan for the past year.

The Episcopal church at Wetaskiwin is to be dedicated on Thursday, August 1st, by the Bishop of Calgary, assisted by several of the clergy of the diocese. It will be known henceforth as Immanuel church. The funds have been raised partly from grants by the S. P. C. K. and home mission fund and partly by the Rev. C. H. Andras, the incumbent, and friends. The size is 40 by 22, height of ceiling is 18 feet, and is to be heated by an underground furnace. There is seat accommodation for 120. An anthem written by the incumbent for the occasion will be sung.

The Salvation army party were driven around the town and settlement on Tuesday and on Wednesday morning started on their trip of exploration. They will go north-east to the vicinity of Egg lake, then south through the Vermilion district east of Beaver lake, cross Battle river, go on to Buffalo lake and return to the railway at Lacombe. They wish to secure about 10,000 acres of land in a block at present with the probability of further extensions in the future. At the same time they do not wish to be more than forty miles from the railway. They would require in order to work out their scheme to own absolutely all the land within their tract. Jas. H. Kelly is conducting the party.

D. ROSS has collected 1,000 bulbs of the orange lily to be shipped to Luther Burbank of Santa Rosa, California, for growth on his experimental farm there. Mr. Burbank, who visited Edmonton last year, makes a business of originating by hybridization and otherwise new varieties of flowers, fruits and vegetables, which he disposes of to seed men and nursery men, throughout the world. His is the only establishment of the kind in existence. The large stock of lily bulbs is for the purpose of making further experiments in the production of new varieties of lilies, and his selection of Edmonton as the field from which to draw the supply is partly on account of the abundance of the flower here and partly his preference, in common with all seed men—for the growth of a northern latitude.

THE Vancouver correspondent of the Winnipeg Commercial continues to quote Manitoba oats at $31 a ton and Edmonton district oats at $29 a ton. This quotation has been standing in the Commercial for the past six months without change and at last it is being published as the latest price by telegraph. THE BULLETIN has made careful enquiries amongst grain dealers who have shipped to the coast all winter and finds that during the period in which Edmonton oats were quoted steadily at $29, the prices really obtained were $27 and $28 and only on very few occasions $29. The very last sale that was made was at $28. So much for the quotation on Edmonton oats. Now the dealers here are prepared to state on fairly full and accurate information that Manitoba oats have never been sold at $31 in Vancouver by the Manitoba shipper during the past winter, nor at any figure higher than the price paid for Edmonton oats. Of course the Commercial is the property of its owner and he has the privilege of printing any quotations he may please in his own paper. But the fact is that growers of oats in this district have in the past been grossly misled by the Commercial's Vancouver quotations and it is for their information that the foregoing is published.

R. SECOND will ship $35,000 worth of fur to-morrow's train.

MR. AND MRS. J. C. GORDON, of Menawan, were in town on Tuesday.

MRS. McDONNELL, of Morley, arrived last week and is the guest of her grand daughter, Mrs. J. E. Graham.

MISS LOU KERNOHAN arrived from London, Ont., on Thursday's train of last week, on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Ibbotson.

THE machinery for the new mining scow arrived on Monday's train and is now being fitted. When completed the scow will be towed up stream by the steamer Minnow.

THE Victoria Colonists quotes fresh eggs at 30c, and imported at 20c., fresh butter 30c. to 35c., and creamery 25c. to 30c. These are prices to consumers not to producers.

R. McKERNAN left on Tuesday's train for Regina with the exhibit of the South Edmonton agricultural society, which includes a very fine collection of grasses and dairy products. Also a Durham cow belonging to T. A. Stephen.

THE funeral of Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gainer, of South Edmonton, took place on Tuesday forenoon to the Edmonton cemetery. There was a large attendance. The funeral service was conducted by Pastor McDonald, of the Baptist church.

J. LINHAM shipped 154 head of cattle on Tuesday's train. He had intended driving them, but having secured a satisfactory rate from the railway company he decided to ship by train. He had 243 more ready to ship but as there were not cars enough he decided to drive them to Wetaskiwin where he expected about 100 head more, chiefly from the Beaver lake district. He had asked the company for a special train and if it did not meet him at Wetaskiwin he would drive to Calgary. His total purchases in the district will be about 500 head, distributing about $12,000 in cash throughout the Edmonton district.

DAVID BARR, M.P. for North Renfrew, Ont., and Wm. Barr, his brother, arrived on Monday's train on a visit to the Edmonton district. On the way they visited Grafton, Dakota, and also the Winnipeg exhibition. Crops are good in the Red River valley, both in Dakota and Manitoba, and are further advanced than at Edmonton. On Wednesday the Messrs. Barr and Mr. Johnstone, of Hunter, North Dakota, were driven to St. Albert and Stony Plain by M. McCauley and to-day they are being driven to the Sturgeon settlement by John Cameron. It is a good sign when men of the standing of the Messrs. Barr find their way to Edmonton.

THE first meeting of the Rural Deacons of Edmonton was held yesterday. The proceedings of the day began with a celebration of the holy communion in Holy Trinity church, South Edmonton, and closed with evening in All Saints' church, Edmonton, at 8 p.m. A very interesting paper on "Life among Russian ecclesiastics" was read by Rev. C. H. Andras during the afternoon session. The deacons of Edmonton extends from Red Deer to Beaver lake and contains six clergymen and one lay reader, all of whom were present at this the first meeting except one clergyman, who was unavoidably absent. Two years ago there were only two clergy in the deanery. The members of the deanery are as follows: Rev. A. Stumden, R. D., Edmonton; Rev. Dr. Newton, Clover Bar; F. W. Goodman, Red Deer; G. C. D'Easum, Fort Saskatchewan; C. H. Andras, Wetaskiwin; Rev. H. C. Grey, S. Edmonton; Mr. Cornell, Beaver lake.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, JULY 25TH, 1895.

COLONIZATION OR CHARITY?

The Commandant of the Salvation army in Canada did the BULLETIN the honor the other night to notice its criticism, published some months ago, on a feature of the army's farm colony scheme, as applied to the Canadian Northwest. At the time the article was written there did not appear to be any probability of the scheme and the BULLETIN coming to very close quarters. As that event has now become at least a probability, it may be as well to state the BULLETIN's position on the matter more fully, as becomes the importance of the scheme and of the army whose scheme it is. As to the army and its work in all its branches the BULLETIN knows and believes and has said nothing but good. And when the army is endeavoring to improve the material as well as the spiritual condition of the unfortunate and the criminal wherever or wherever they may be, it will have such support as the BULLETIN is able to give, just as any other individual or organization engaged in a similar work will receive like support. But in the opinion of the BULLETIN the work of caring for the wreckage of a congested civilization is one thing and laying the foundation of a new colony or country or kingdom or nation or empire—as you please—is another. And while it is the business of the army to raise the fallen by such means as they can, it is not less the business of those who as citizens are the legislators of this country to secure and select the best materials, and only the best materials, out of which to build a strong and healthy and vigorous and prosperous nation. To keep clean is not less a duty whether private or public or religious than to make clean, and is particularly desirable in laying the foundations of a new country, where the influence of one man is equal to the influence of ten or of a hundred in an old and populous country. Taking the spokesmen of the army at their word the class of people for whose benefit the proposed farm is to be established are not the strong characters either mentally, morally or physically who can lay best the foundations of society; they are not the class who so far have built Canada. It is not necessary to point out how far they are from fulfilling these conditions.

As a charitable scheme the farm colony is to be commended and assisted and countenanced by all those whose inclinations or obligations lead them in that direction; but it should not be recognized as a colonization scheme in any sense of the word. If the army should decide that the Northwest offered the best of opportunities for the working out of their scheme the BULLETIN would not wish to see any impediments thrown in their way, and would credit the army with its successes and its consequences whether good or bad. But on the other hand it would be very sorry to see the people of Canada through the action of the government become partners in the transaction in any way or assume any share of the responsibility on the plea that it was a colonization project. If the scheme is a good one it can stand on its merits as a charity and if it cannot so stand it would be better for this country that it should not stand at all. As the BULLETIN understands it, the army would be under obligations to Canada for allowing the colony to be established here; not as the Commandant seemed to argue, that Canada would be under obligations to the army for undertaking the establishment. A proper understanding at the start might prevent many misunderstandings in the future. The government of Canada is in the nature of things responsible for the welfare of poor people who are in Canada, and that is enough, without assuming responsibility for the poor who are outside as well. True charity begins at home.

THE FREE (?) PRESS AGAIN.

Winnipeg Tribune: In double leaded type on its editorial page the Free Press to-day makes the following announcement:

"For some time the Free Press has given considerable attention to the administration of federal affairs, and less, perhaps, than they deserved to local matters. The present time seems a fitting one for making a change in this respect, and at the same time for occupying a somewhat different attitude towards political parties both in federal and provincial affairs. The Free Press, therefore, will hold itself aloof from partisanship with either Conservatives or Liberals, whether of the province or the Dominion, commending or criticising either one or the other, as occasion may seem to require."

As the announcement follows very closely upon the return of its manager from a visit to Sir William Van Horne, it is most significant, as the change would appear to be carrying out the instructions of the president who, as is well known, indirectly controls the journal. The subject formed the leading topic of conversation among politicians on the street to-day, and many were the significant winks and nods given. The change as announced in so many words means the assumption of a different attitude politically and this most people take to mean that it will support the Dominion government. It is also believed by many that contingent upon the change, a Conservative print, which has had a discredited and most tempestuous career, will shortly be discontinued. The road which this venture has had to travel has been an exceedingly rocky one, and as the Free Press under the change, will no doubt give the Conservatives all the support in this country that the circumstances will warrant, there would seem to be no further excuse for the existence of that sheet. Many think that those responsible for its issue would be delighted to "slide off the box," on shortest notice, if they were sure the Free Press would do the amiable by the party. This seems to be the generally accepted theory about the streets, and an announcement in that direction would not surprise the public.

TERRITORIAL EXHIBITION.

The management of the Northwest Territorial Exhibition will give a challenge cup for competition between Territorial football teams; the members of teams to be admitted free to the grounds during evenings that the competition is taking place. There will also be a competition for prize medals, to be presented to each member of the winning team. An entry fee of $5.00 to be paid by each team competing. Entries must be sent in by Monday the 29th instant, addressed to Mr. Alex. McDonald, Regina. In addition to the speeding contests already advertised, there will be a free for all, or open trot, mile heats, three in five, purse $150.00. 75 per cent. to first, 25 per cent. to second. Also a running race, mile dash, weight for age. Maidens at time of starting allowed ten pounds. Purse $125.00, 75 per cent. to first, 25 per cent. to second. There will also be a baseball tournament on the 29th, instant. Entries to close July 26th. The rules as adopted by the National League, and the American Association to govern. First $125.00; 2nd, $25.00. The draw will be made by the Committee on the 29th. Play to commence on the Wednesday July 31st, at 9.30 a. m., and each morning at the same time until the final. Entry fee $2.00 for each club entering. All teams deciding to compete will please notify Mr. Hamilton Lang, Moose Jaw, so that arrangements may be made. Entries in Classes 76 and 77, field roots and garden vegetables and Classes 82 and 83, Plants and flowers, will be received to 9 a. m. on Tuesday the 3rd, instant. It has been decided to extend the time for receiving entries for the Territorial Exhibition until the 25th, inst. after which positively no entries will be received.

GENERAL NEWS.

A light frost occurred at Broadview, Assa., on July 16th.

Reported that several of the directors of the Banque du Peuple are to be prosecuted for malfeasance of office.

Edward Blake has been elected to the British parliament for the south division of Longford, Ireland, without opposition.

H. A. Galbraith, the well known traveller for Taylor's safes, died recently at his home in St. John the northern suburb of Winnipeg.

One item of the cost of Sir John Thompson's funeral was a floral wreath costing $1,936, which was labelled as being presented by his colleagues, but for which the country was billed in full.

Medicine Hat Times: Mr. A. R. Dickson, of Dunmore, one of the old timers in this district, left on Sunday for Wetaskiwin. The "Laird of Dunmore" stayed with this town until the finish, and his many friends in this neighborhood will regret to know of his departure. He took a carload of stuff with him.

Lethbridge News: Plenty of grass, plenty of water, an unprecedented calf crop, a sure market for beef at good prices and plenty of prime beef for that market. This is the news from the Southern Alberta stock ranges. It should be good news for outsiders who have capital invested in cattle in this country, for it means a paying business and sure dividends.

Moose Jaw Times: On Thursday, 4th July, in the house of commons, the grant to the Northwest Assembly for 1895-96 was considered and adopted in committee of the whole house. The grant amounts to the same as last year's grant, that is the sum given for schools and public improvements is about $240,000. Last year $20,000 of the sum went towards expenses of the general elections; but when it is considered that a large number of new school districts have been organized this season, every one of which claims its quota of the fund; and when it is further considered that the assembly ended last year with a big shortage through the dishonorable action of the minister of interior, it will be realized that the new year is started most unfavorably by the new assembly. Mr. Haultain's Ottawa mission has again proved entirely fruitless. He has been snubbed, and in his person the Northwest has been snubbed. How long do the people of the Territories propose to take this repeated snubbing with equanimity?

SALVATION ARMY RECEPTION.

On Monday evening, Capt. Davidson and a large number of Salvation army soldiers went over to the station to meet and welcome Commandant Booth and party to Edmonton. The fire brigade band occupied the band stand and played as the party came up the hill and then marched to the Salvation army barracks on Queen's avenue where the visitors took tea. After tea a procession was formed led by the band and proceeded to Robertson hall. The hall was well filled. The chair was taken by acting mayor C. F. Strang, J. H. Board councillor, and A. G. Randall town clerk, were also on the platform. The visitors comprised Commandant Booth, chief of the Salvation army in Canada. Brigadier Clibborn, commanding the Salvation forces in South America, Col. Stitt, manager of the army farm in England, Mr. Lawford, a farmer of Hampshire, England, not a member of the army, and Capt. Morris of Winnipeg. Capt. Davidson, in command of the Edmonton corps was also on the platform. The proceedings were opened with a Salvation song "Marching on" given out and led by Brigadier Clibborn, followed by prayer by Capt. Morris. While the party were still on their knees commandant Booth sang "I'll take it back no more" to guitar accompaniment by himself and banjo by Capt. Morris. Prayer was again offered by Mr. Lawford. The Commandant then introduced Brigadier Clibborn as a member of the army who had been converted in Paris many years ago. He became a soldier in the army, afterwards an officer and finally a brigadier. He had served in France, Switzerland, Belgium, South Africa, South America and Canada. Brigadier Clibborn then sang a Salvation song in Spanish, accompanying himself on the guitar. The chorus "Hallelujah" was given in English.

The chairman then said that as acting mayor of the town he was glad to welcome these distinguished officers of the Salvation army.

A. G. Randall, town clerk, read a short address of welcome in which the hope was expressed that the object of the visit namely the selection of a farm colony in this district would be successful.

Commandant Booth in reply said that the kind and courteous welcome himself and party had received was an unexpected pleasure, and he hoped that in return their visit would be a benefit and a blessing to the place. He had often heard of Edmonton and of the region of which Edmonton was the capital. He had always been told that if he came to Edmonton he would have a large, sympathetic and appreciative audience and had found the statement correct. He invited all present to call upon him at his home whenever they visited Toronto, but not to come altogether. He did not feel himself a stranger here. The Salvation army was so much at one in aim and object that wherever they met whether in Iceland or India, in Australia, New Zealand or in the United States, by land or sea, in season or out of season, they were always one in mind and heart and brotherly affection. He started to tell a story located in England, and this called up an allusion to Mr. Lawford whom he spoke of as the John Bull of the party, especially representing England, and always keeping before his companions that he was an Englishman. Mr. Lawford had become more and more excited over the beauties and advantages of the country as he came north from Calgary, and on reaching Edmonton his excitement had reached such a pitch that the speaker said not to be surprised if he should sell out in England and become a Canadian. However the story was that two young Englishmen who had been turned out of a saloon at midnight in a partially drunken condition began to dispute as to whether the light they saw was from the sun or moon. They agreed to leave it to arbitration by a third party, who however, was further gone than either of them. He excused himself from giving a decision on the ground that he was a stranger in those parts. The speaker was glad that he did not feel himself a stranger here. He was the brother of all he met. There was no influence to make him feel himself a stranger. He was fighting under the same flag for the same master to do all the good he could. He gave short a sketch of the founding of the army. Thirty years ago Wm. Booth, the founder of the army was ejected from the New Connexion Methodist church. He was launched into the world with his wife and four children, with nothing but the love of God in his heart and the yearning to build up his Father's Kingdom. One day as he stood in the Whitechapel district of London, he was told that within a mile of where he stood there were a million people of whom 90 per cent. never went inside a church. He then made the resolve whatever one man can do to bring these sheep to the fold of their shepherd shall be done, and there, before the Blind Beggar saloon, the first salvation army service was held. The army to-day has 12,000 salaried officers, 30,000 assistants, 12,000 brass bandmen, many of whom had been raised up from the degradation of the drinking saloons, and millions of people who helped to carry on the operations of the army. Four years ago the army woke up to the fact that there was a strata of society which even they did not reach. Millions of people were poor for the same reason that others were rich. One man is born to riches and honor, and another is born to either starve or steal. It was hard to talk to a man about his soul when his body lacked food, and he knew not where to get it. These people asked "Is it nothing to God's soldiers that we rot?" In London alone each night there were 60,000 people who had not house nor home, who were like the Son of Man, not knowing where to lay their heads. General Booth said: "What the army can do it will do."

Soldiers were opened and now 6,000 people could find a night's rest in the shelters of the Salvation army in London alone. What is done in London is done in many other great cities of England and the United States. In speaking of the slum work he said: "The difficulty in the world is not unbelief in God, for everyone believes in his heart that there is a God. It is the unbelief in the professed followers of Christ. There are so few who follow this Man of Sorrows. When they see our good works they will know us. As to the special mission of the party. It had been decided to establish a farm colony in some country outside of England. The choice might fall on West Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, South America or Canada. Different parties were making examinations in the different countries and when the General received their several reports he would decide. In Canada examinations had been made in North Ontario, in Manitoba and in the Edmonton district. The speaker was an adopted Canadian and was anxious that the colony should come to Canada, and he did not know where it would receive a better welcome. He wished to correct an error which had appeared in newspaper published in this part of the country and to which his attention had been drawn in Toronto. The writer was evidently misinformed as to the true purpose of the establishment of the colony. Some said that Gen. Booth intended to establish an international dist. pit. He had no such intention. Whatever the consequences may be to the country in which the colony is established its success will be infinitely more to the credit of the Salvation army itself. All the world was watching the army in this matter. It would not pay the army to try to build up anything but a prosperous and successful community. It was said: "We want people with money, and effects,—these are the kind of settlers." Ah yes. Don't you wish you may get them. But you can't get them. People who are doing well in the old country will remain there. We propose to take unfortunate people and put them on a farm colony and train them. Instead of taking them up and throwing them down, we propose to do with them as with a cabbage. We make a place for it and put it in and water it. Before we bring out the colonists we will call for volunteers to clear and prepare the land for occupation. Then we say to the people whom we have trained on our home farm. Here is the last round of the ladder. When you have earned enough to pay for this it is yours. The Salvation army was a great machine, a wheel within a wheel. The moment the flag is unfurled and the farm is started I believe there will be salvationists from all over the world who will come to settle near the colony who wish to work and live and die and rise in the resurrection with other salvationists, and that they will build up a strong salvation community in the country of their choice.

Col. Stitt said that as the train had arrived behind time they were not able to open their meeting as soon as they had expected. It was now getting late and he would make his remarks short. He had not been a Canadian very long. Was a newly pledged chicken and had not yet got on his winter coat. He had heard of the glories of this garden of Eden in England and now that he was here he could say with the visitor to the ancient king: "The half was never told me." When I saw the river and the trees along it I thought if I ever left the Salvation army and wanted a quiet place to settle down this would be my choice. But it is not our business to crack up your town or people. The farm scheme of the Salvation army is a three fold institution. There is the city colony, from which deserving candidates are removed to the farm colony and from there to the "Over Sea" colony when it is established. Some discredited the scheme because the Salvation army was of mushroom growth. He had been connected with it for sixteen years. He thanked God that he was saved and never had any reason to wish that he was not saved or to throw up his commission in the Salvation army. He had had something to do with establishing the farm colony in England. The several departments were of the nature of a set of sieves, such as coal sieves. People were taken in and sifted and sifted in the several departments. The best were kept on top and these would be given an opportunity on the farm colony. The home farm colony comprised nine farms with buildings, and included 3,000 acres in a solid block. The work was not merely growing wheat. There were 22 departments. They had a mixed farm, a market garden, a fruit farm, a dairy farm, etc. Last year they grew and marketed 20 tons of strawberries and 20 tons of other small fruits, besides apples. They sold $4,000 worth of fruit off the farm last year. The dairy had 60 to 80 milch cows and the farm had 200 head of stock. People of all nationalities had been employed on the farm, except Chinamen, and they would be taken in if they applied. They had workshops including steam joinery, brick yards, etc. Each week $1,000 was paid out in wages and 250 to 400 persons were employed. Twenty-five hundred people had received a course of training at the farm since it was started. Some people think that the proposed "Over Sea" colony should be located in England. But England was overcrowded and all nations were represented within her borders. London alone had a million more people than all Canada. The army not only wished to establish colonists but many people were ready to rally around this colony. He had received letters stating that as soon as the "over sea" colony was established the writers would join. He hoped that those who know nothing of the army would seek to know of it.

Mr. Lawford said he would not detain the audience long. He had known General Booth nearly 20 years. Since the social scheme had been inaugurated he had watched him more closely. He had visited the army farm colony in Essex. There were many sides to this question of the poor. He had been a poor law guardian in England for twelve years. But the poor law does not answer the purpose for which it was intended. There is a missing link and it is claimed for this scheme of General Booth that it is that missing link necessary to complete the chain which will lift the poor into a better position. There must be a missing link or with all the appliances for assistance of the poor existing in England, there would not be 60,000 poor in London. The mission of the party to this country was to assist in the scheme of raising these poor people from their present condition. He hoped an interest had been awakened.

Commandant Booth moved a vote of thanks to the chairman. He remarked that he believed if the colony came to this district it would be a good thing for Edmonton and a good thing for the army. He continued in a short address on spiritual matters, and asked that the soldiers of the army call upon him after the meeting and before leaving for home. The song "God be with you till we meet again" and the benediction concluded the meeting.

In connection with the action taken by Sir A. P. Caron against L'Eclaireur, that paper says: "No one should be surprised if in our country justice would enforce you to endorse all our public men's actions or else by the means of law, deprive us of all we have and send us a begging. In a country where there is no public opinion the one making laws being sure of non-punishment can do all they like."

R. A. RITTAN, land agent at Edmonton, visited the Athabasca Landing on Monday last.

P. McCAULEY came in from Lac la Biche on Wednesday bringing a train of dogs which he will take to the Regina exhibition on to-morrow's train.

CONSTABLE READER left on Tuesday's train for Wetaskiwin in charge of a prisoner accused of getting goods under false pretences. He returned by trail.

D. H. HOUTON, of Hunter, Cass County, North Dakota, has purchased a section and a half of land near Wetaskiwin. On a part of it near the town he will erect an elevator this fall and build a spur track to it.

R. K. HUGHSON, of Menawa, was in town this week with cheese for sale and for shipment to the Regina fair. Mr. Hughson runs a home factory and milks about 40 cows. He has disposed readily of all the cheese made so far, and will extend operations next year.

FOR SALES, Monday: Jas. Walsh purchased $355 worth in two lots from Jasper House Indians. R. Record purchased $3,000 worth from Colin Johnson of Athabasca Landing. Tuesday: R. Record from Vernon, B. C., $300, and from Revelstoke, B. C., $465. From H. W. McKenney, St. Albert, $45.

H. GOSLIN and party returned on Saturday last from the Athabasca where they had gone on a good washing trip. They went to Lac la Nonne by trail, and then down the Pembina and up the Athabasca by boat. The Athabasca was too high to do much work, but they struck a very good prospect. As the water continued high they determined to return to Edmonton, for a short time and will go back to the Athabasca as soon as the water falls. They started from a point on the Athabasca 30 miles below Fort Assiniboine, on Tuesday, July 16th, and walked from there to Edmonton where they arrived at five o'clock on Saturday morning. The air was very smoky while they were on the Athabasca owing to fires in the dry muskegs. They saw a large number of prospecting parties on the Athabasca, making ready to go to work when the water falls.

CARISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIAL.

A garden party and social was given on Monday evening last under the auspices of the Society of Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church at the residence of J. A. McDougall, the occasion being the early departure of Miss Hendrie, who has been prominently connected with the work of the church for some years, to her former home in Hamilton, Ont. There was a large attendance and a most enjoyable time was spent. After tea had been served the chair was taken by A. G. Randall, leader of the choir, and the following address to Miss Hendrie, was read by Mr. Shera.

EDMONTON, July 22nd, 1905.
Dear Miss Hendrie we the members and friends of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Edmonton Presbyterian congregation avail ourselves of this opportunity on the eve of your departure from Edmonton to express our appreciation of you and your many excellent qualities, both as our member and president of our society. Your christian character as well as your labors have been a power for good in our society, and we will miss your wise counsel, helpful presence and helpful activity in our meetings and practical work both in this society and out of it. But our loss will be a decided gain to some other band of workers for our blessed master wherever in his good providence your lot may be cast in the coming days. It is with deep regret that we part with you here, but we are thankful that you have been permitted to sojourn for a time with us and hope to meet again where there shall be no more parting, but "Forever with the Lord." In whose presence there is a fullness of joy and at whose right hand there are pleasures forever more.

Ever your well wishers in the Lord.
Signed J. W. Shera,
Secretary.

The chairman then made a short address of regret at Miss Hendrie's departure, on behalf of the choir. Addresses were also given by Rev. Mr. McQueen, Rev. Mr. Muldrew and M. McCauley. The musical part of the programme included piano solos by A. McCauley, and Miss Richardson. Songs by Mrs. F. Ross, Mr. A. G. Randall, and Mr. McAdam, and a duet on violin and accordion by Messrs. Thos. Houston and R. Andrews. The proceedings were closed with the hymn, "God be with you till we meet again."

PREBYTERIAN CHURCH.

At the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in Canada, which met in Winnipeg in June, 1887, one important item of business was the erection of the Presbytery of Calgary with the following boundaries: On the east by the 109th degree of longitude, on the south by the 49th parallel of latitude, on the west by a line running due north and south through the point of the second crossing of the Columbia river by the C. P. R., on the north by the Arctic sea. In 1892 at the assembly meeting in Montreal the western limit was made to conform to the boundary between British Columbia and Alberta. The territory then surrendered now forms part of the Presbytery of Kamloops. Our eastern boundary has been practically pushed about 60 miles to the east of the 109th degree of longitude to Rush lake, a point on the C. P. R. about 22 miles beyond Swift Current. In this vast territory there are at present laboring 15 ordained ministers of the gospel and 11 students and other missionaries. Nine of the former and five of the latter are laboring along and to the south of the main line of the C. P. R. Six of each class are in the northern district. There are two self-sustaining churches—Calgary and Lethbridge and two augmented congregations with their own settled pastors—Medicine Hat and Edmonton. All the other points are either mission congregations with ordained men in charge or mission stations with students or other missionaries looking after their spiritual interests. The greatest development of work during the last three or four years has been to the north of the C. P. R. Six years ago one ordained man covered the whole territory to the north of the railway. Now there is plenty of good material for the erection of a strong presbytery even north of the Red Deer river. At the end of 1894 there were 20 church buildings and six manse within the bounds of the presbytery. The gospel was preached at 80 points with an average attendance of 1984. There were 892 families; 440 single persons of Presbyterian birth not connected with families, and 839 members in full communion. There were 1006 in Sabbath schools and Bible classes cared for by 114 teachers and other officers. The stipends paid by congregations alone during 1894 amounted to $7384, and a supplement of $7612 was received from the home mission and augmentation funds, thus showing the practical interest taken by the church in the older provinces and the old land in our work. The amount spent on churches and manse was $2356 and on other congregational incidentals $2243. This makes a total for strictly congregational purposes of $11,983. In addition to this there was raised $661 for the schemes of the church in general, $1236 for synod and presbytery funds, and $806 for benevolent and other religious purposes. This gives a grand total of $13,376 or almost $16 per member for all church work.

AGRICOLA.

A picnic was held at Pearce's grove on Saturday last at which a foot ball match was played between South Edmonton and Agricola teams, the latter after a well contested game being victorious.

Wheat promises to be a very good crop this season, oats and barley are generally light, especially on old land which badly needs rain.

The fact that in the vicinity of timber, crops are much better than on the open land, should teach us all a lesson to preserve our timber as much as possible, since the whole country is gradually but undoubtedly becoming drier every year, for where only three years ago lakes containing three or four feet of water were plentiful, hardly a pond can be found now that is not perfectly dry. Every farmer can have a grove of young poplars with very little trouble, which he should protect as carefully as he does his wheat fields; indeed the preservation of our timber is becoming of so much importance to the welfare of the community at large, that it should receive the special attention of the Territorial legislature during the approaching session.

The hay sloughs are nearly all dry and as a natural consequence wild hay is very scarce, and farmers are finding it necessary to sow timothy, oats or rye for hay.

GENERAL NEWS.

A $20,000 fire occurred in the A. R. & C. Co., round house at Lethbridge on July 17th. Lethbridge News, July 17th: Snowballing in the middle of July is not often witnessed in any country, but after the hail storm here on Monday snowballs were made by several of our citizens.

Free Press, Saturday, July 20th: Dr. H. C. Wilson, mayor of Edmonton, is in the city on his way to Ottawa, where he will interview the Ottawa government on the question of a new bridge over the Saskatchewan. John Wismer, of Qu'Appelle, died Sunday afternoon, July 13th, at 5 o'clock from the effects of an accident on July 1st, having been thrown from his horse while playing polo in the match between the home team and Regina.

The Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo railway is 122 miles long and will connect the C. P. R. system at Toronto with the Vanderbilt system at Buffalo. The route of this new railway is along the navigable waters of lake Ontario for a great part of the distance, and parallels other railways for its whole length. But the Canadian government gives it a subsidy of $3,200 a mile in cash, just the same.

The Free Press reporter ask Commandant Booth: "What class of settlers will be placed upon the farm if it is decided to locate it in Canada?" The commandant replied, "That's a point I wish you would impress on the public. We will place upon it the best farmers of England, men who will make a success of the work. We want our colony to go ahead; we will therefore bring out industrious, hardy farmers, who need assistance in their works, and who are willing to agree to our terms. We can find plenty of them even now anxious to go. We do not want idlers or loafers."
